

PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date as of April 12, 2023

Fozeus company, referred to herein also as “Fozeus”, “we”, “us” or “our” is committed to protecting user (also referred as “you”) privacy as outlined below. This document, along with the Terms of Use, outlines different ways that Fozeus will interact with user data and was written in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act directive and General Data Protection Regulation. Fozeus performs the actions with data from those who visit or use our website <https://fozeus.com>, applications and other products.

User acknowledges and gives consent to this data collection and to our Privacy Policy as a whole by using our Website, Services and Products.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: GATHERING AND USE

We collect the following categories of personal data and company-related data:

Personal data and company-related data refers to any information about personal or material circumstances that we obtain and process through your Fozeus registration and that can be attributed to you directly or indirectly (e.g. via your ID). These details include your ID, your full name, password and e-mail address, postal address, country of residence, date of birth, cryptocurrency wallet addresses etc. In addition, we will process your company name, founding date, business registration number, company address, any existing branches, your tax number, billing email address, fax number, company website, business, sales data, cryptocurrency wallet addresses, bank details, first name, last name, e-mail address, date of birth and telephone number of the company contact person, if you enter as a business entity.

Necessary financial information: financial data, transaction data and the nature of using the service, e.g. transaction sums, transaction history and other information which we may request in order to provide our services;

Personal data and company-related data that identifies you such as your IP address, language, country, browser type, and version, time zone setting, browser plug-in types, some location information about where you might be, operating system and version, page response times, download errors, how long you stay on web pages, what you do on those pages, how often, and other actions;

Other personal data and company-related data you share with us or data that we may legally obtain from some other sources.

We collect and store information through the use of “cookies” and other automated means whenever you visit our website. This information may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol address, browser type, browser version, your login attempts, the pages of our Service that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages and other statistics. This enables us to improve our website and deliver a better service to you. We collect your IP address to track technical issues and errors so we can improve our website. We use your IP address and log activities to be able to avoid or eliminate fraudulent use of your account. This way we can see if there is an irregular amount of login attempts on your account to allow us to detect fraud. In such an instance we may request you to verify your identity using your Account Information. We store your IP address and your activities on our website for this purpose in our logs. Find out more about the cookies we use in our “Cookie Policy”.

PRIVACY POLICY

Personal data and company-related data may be used to:

- Authorise user to open an account with Fozeus;
- Respond to user queries or complaints;
- Contact user;
- Process and facilitate financial transactions and services;
- Maintain account security through measures such as 2FA;
- Analyse user behaviour and trends on our website to improve its performance;
- Comply with regulations such as for anti-money laundering and fraud prevention purposes;
- Anonymised market research that allows us to improve our services and optimise our performance for user experience. The user may opt for their data to be non-anonymised;
- Inform user of products and offers that may interest them, including from third-party organisations if user has agreed to allow for this type of information to be sent to him;
- If we want to sell our business or otherwise transfer part or the whole of Fozeus or our assets to another organisation (e.g., in the course of a transaction like a merger, acquisition, bankruptcy, dissolution, liquidation), we can disclose data to the potential buyer, as well as your information may be among the items sold or transferred. The buyer or transferee will have to honour the commitments we have made in this Privacy Policy;

Personal data and company-related data may be processed by third parties to supply services to you on our behalf. These may include payment processing, search engine facilities, advertising and marketing.

From time to time, we may promote our events, celebrate your achievements, organise contests and other promotions. If you contact us via our platform, we process your data in order to reply to questions you may ask, to contact you for congratulatory purposes or when you participate in a contest or promotion on our platform. If you participate in a contest or promotion, we use for your name (including your social media handles), address and / or e-mail address. We use this information to announce and inform the prize winner(s). We only collect this information with your consent. You will find more details on each contest or promotional activity. For congratulatory purposes, such as celebrating your achievements or for sending out birthday wishes to you, we may use for your name, a picture of you, your day of birth. We only collect and publish this information on our platform with your consent. We may use your personal data and company-related data for purposes other than those described in this Privacy Policy. We will inform you about those purposes when you register for the service, event, contest, or promotion.

Technology used to gather data:

User Submission. Users submit much of the aforementioned data directly by filling out the information forms on site and users always have the choice of not sending this data and opting out of a service.

Log Files. Files used to keep a record of browser types, IP addresses, time stamps, pattern information such as the number of user clicks, referring pages, and exit pages are called Log Files. These files are typically collected on the majority of website servers. In our case, the files are gathered to analyse user trends, enhance the performance of our website or application, and to prevent fraud and other bad practices.

PRIVACY POLICY

Cookies. Web servers often send information from a web server to a user's web browser. This information is called a cookie, and it's stored on the user's hard drive. Cookies enable web browsers to remember individual user habits, logins, and other personal information. When your web browser automatically fills in your usernames or passwords for any website, this is due to stored cookies on your hard drive. You can choose to disable cookies in your browser, and this may result in reduced functionality on both Fozeus Website and Application as well as any other sites and applications.

LEGAL GROUND FOR COLLECTING

Consent the freely given, informed, and unambiguous indication of your wishes to the processing of your personal data and company-related data for a specific purpose which signifies agreement to the processing of personal data and company-related data.

Services - if data necessary for us to perform our services or terms of use to which you are a party or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into the services.

Legal obligations - if data is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which Fozeus is a subject.

Legitimate Interests - a legal ground for the processing of your personal and company-related data when it is based on our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party, provided that those interests are not outweighed by your rights and interests and those interests have a specific purpose, they are necessary, and they are balanced.

WHO ELSE WILL SEE USER DATA

Fozeus uses personal information and company-related information gathered from our users in accordance with legal regulations. We may distribute personal information and company-related information to third parties such as affiliates, financial institutions, representatives, legal staff, partners, and contractors. Users acknowledge and agree that data storage, collecting and processing might be performed with third party service providers.

Information may also be shared with law enforcement or regulatory bodies in accordance with local laws.

Third parties are required to protect your personal information and company-related information and use it only for the purposes stated, such as performing a service for Fozeus. All third parties are bound to comply with our privacy policy, with the exception of law enforcement and regulatory bodies.

Partners and other Third Parties are responsible for processing and obligated to legally keep and use your personal information and company-related information. Partners may include Fozeus representatives or affiliate parties. Payment processors, financial institutions, and services responsible for verifying your identification for security purposes are examples of other possible data processors involved in our personal data and company-related data processing system.

Fozeus websites and applications may link to other sites and online third-party tools and resources. Our privacy policy does not apply to these third-party entities, but to our websites and applications only.

PRIVACY POLICY

Third-party sites and resources are not under our control, and we accept no liability for the use of these sites and resources including losses, technical failures, damages, or any other undesirable outcomes. Users are advised to familiarise themselves with the terms of use and privacy policies for third party sites and resources. Please read their privacy policies before you submit any data to them.

LEGAL RIGHTS OF USERS

Fozeus users may request access to their personal data and company-related data which we store. You may request that we make accurate adjustments to your data, or that we erase your data. You have the right to object to us processing your data or to change your mind regarding the permissions we have to interact with your data.

You can contact us at support@fozeus.com for any of the above. In some cases, we may charge a fee to make these adjustments to data or agreements with specific customers, depending on the nature of the request.

SECURITY

Fozeus protects user data using encryption and takes all possible steps within our means to protect user data. We use Secure Sockets Layered (SSL) encryption among other features, such as firewalls, virus detection, and others. The user has a possibility to activate 2FA authentication and use it as an additional security measure for authentication.

We have taken all steps within our means to protect user data. Total protection is never possible under any company, including Fozeus. Data submission is at your own risk. We are committed to protecting that data, and we will notify users should any malpractice or damages towards user data occur.

Users are responsible for their own data, including choosing a safe password or agreeing to submit data to third parties companies including Fozeus. Data submission is at users own risk and they are responsible for their own data. We work with affiliate organisations and partners, and they may receive your data overseas depending on our own operations.

RETENTION AND STORAGE OF DATA

Fozeus creates and keeps information records regarding customer accounts, activities, and transactions. These records may be stored digitally or on paper, and in most cases, digital methods are used. These records are necessary to allow us to offer our services and handle user queries, as well as for the purposes of legal compliance. If you deactivate your account in Fozeus, we will mark your account in our database as "Deactivated", we will anonymise your personal information and company-related information, in which case it is no longer considered personal information and company-related information, but we will keep your account information in our database for at least five years. This is necessary to prevent fraud and prevent people who try to commit fraud from being able to avoid their detection by merely deactivating their account and opening another one.

We keep data for this period to comply with international and local laws and regulations around money laundering. We may keep data for over ten years in some cases for tax, bookkeeping and regulatory purposes.

Fozeus will not attempt to collect sensitive data not necessary for our operations, and we will not process information belonging to children (under 13 or other age as required by local law)

PRIVACY POLICY

("Children"). We do not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from Children. If you are a parent or guardian and you are aware that your Children has provided us with personal information, please contact us. If we become aware that we have collected personal information from a child under the age of 16 (or the applicable age in their territory) without verification of parental consent, we take steps to remove that information from our servers.

FRAUD, PHISHING AND EMAIL SCAMS

Please be notified that Fozeus is not in any partnership with entities who represent themselves as customer support agents, providing customer support services via email and/or social media and promising to help solve your issues for money. If you discovered what you believe is a fraud, phishing, or scam which impersonates Fozeus, please contact us as soon as possible.

LINKS TO OTHER SITES

Fozeus websites and applications may link to other sites and online third-party tools and resources. Our privacy policy does not apply to these third-party entities, but to our websites and applications only. Third-party sites and resources are not under our control, and we accept no liability for the use of these sites and resources including losses, technical failures, damages, or any other undesirable outcomes. Users are advised to familiarize themselves with the terms of use and privacy policies for third party sites and resources.

CHANGES AND QUERIES

This Privacy Policy is subject to change at the sole discretion of Fozeus. We will notify users of any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy on this page. Users are advised to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any changes. Changes to this Privacy Policy are effective when they are posted on this page.
